

If you're looking for connection...

Come join us in small groups!

- ✓ Get to know others better
 - ✓ Build deeper relationships
 - ✓ Discuss spirituality and life
 - ✓ Support and pray for each other
 - ✓ Grow with God and one another!

Small Groups are a simple and meaningful way to build relationships, reflect on the sermon together, and grow in faith alongside others. This first season, all groups will follow a sermon-based discussion format, making it easy to jump in—no prep required, just come as you are.

Everyone is welcome

Small Groups are for everyone, whether you've been here for years or are brand new. If more people sign up than groups available, we'll simply begin training additional hosts right away—your interest helps us grow!

Thursday Mornings

Led by Julie Evonna

My wife, Ann, and I moved to Brecksville in July 2023. As we drove through town, the welcoming rainbow doors at BUMC as well as a Pride flag at the church across the street helped us to affirm our decision to settle here. We attend the early service with some regularity and continue to feel embraced as we nurture new friendships and seek new opportunities for connection. My faith reflects a Universalist tradition. I have been involved with small group ministries for many years and know of the richness and deepening of connection that grows within small groups. Zoom will become our gathering room and I greatly look forward to creating our connections.

Sunday Evenings

Led by Tina Mihalek

I am an avid traveler, nature lover, massage therapist, wife, mom of two and lifelong learner. Thanks to the enchanting pumpkin patch of 2024, our family began our BUMC journey. We leave each encounter feeling inspired, grounded and part of a community that matches our values. For our small group, we will dine together, reflect on Heidi's message and support one another each week. I look forward to going beyond the small talk and safely sharing meaningful discussions, deeper connection and honest community as we navigate life together.

Thursday Evenings

Led by Becky Bendlak

I'm a married working mother of three kids spanning 8 years to 18 years old. My family and I were drawn to the BUMC community initially through online services 5 years ago and we have been a part of the Brecksville UMC community ever since. We love seeing the motto "creating safe spaces..." in action throughout the different ministries my family and I take part of. I look forward to forming deeper connections and helping others do the same within our small group.
